Bava Restaurant

— HOTEL BELLEVUE

Gourmands and healthy food lovers will enjoy the delicacies of the island, the region, or various aspects of international cuisine that the famous and world-travelling Lošinj captains brought back to the island. The top quality fare from our local and Croatian organic producers is enriched with herbs from our garden. The carefully prepared dishes of Bava's gourmet breakfast offer include Istrian and Dalmatian prosciutto, smoked salmon, cheeses and cured meats, homemade honey and marmalade, fresh fruits and vegetables, and options for those with food allergies. For the evening menu, Bava offers a dozen different dishes made from the best-quality lobsters, scampi, fresh fish, and meat.

Alfred Keller Restaurant

— BOUTIQUE HOTEL ALHAMBRA

Experience a symphony of colours, flavours and aromas through the dishes made from high-quality local ingredients including Adriatic fish, shellfish, clams, Cres lamb, Istrian boškarin beef and donkey meat, as well as the seasonal organic products dressed with aromatic island herbs. Inspired by the rich tradition and history of the Lošinj area, chef Melkior Bašić uses his innovative dishes to interpret tradition differently. Combining each tasty delicacy with a vast palette of international and local wines from the extensive wine cellar (there are 400 bottles to choose from, after all), the restaurant can also interest you in the most expensive cognac, Remy Martin Louis XIII. Our esteemed à la carte restaurant was also named in the prestigious French restaurant guide Gault & Millau, receiving 15 points and three chef's hat and was considered one of the best restaurants.
